

DISPUTE ABOUT THE REASONS OF RELIGION

CONTENTS

Introduction [in Polish]	15
Introduction [in English]	25

P a r t O n e

THE PROBLEM OF THE REASONS OF RELIGION IN JOZEF M. BOCHENSKI'S ANALYTICAL PHILOSOPHY

Chapter I: Epistemological-methodological characteristics of J. M. Bochehski's analytical philosophy	37
§ 1. The conception of analytical philosophy	37
§ 2. The conception of analytical philosophy of religion	39
Chapter II: The problem of justification of religion by way of justifying the truth of propositions and beliefs concerning elements of the religious relation	43
§ 1. The question of human nature	44
§ 2. The question of existence of God	48
§ 3. Mathematical-logical analysis of proofs of God's existence .	51
§ 4. The question of the nature of God	81
Chapter III: The problem of justifying religion by way of justifying religious faith.....	101
§ 1. The structure of religious faith	102
§ 2. The question of justifying religious faith	105
§ 3. The theory of the religious hypothesis	109

P a r t T w o

THE PROBLEM OF THE REASONS OF RELIGION IN CLASSICAL PHILOSOPHY

Chapter I: Epistemological-methodological characteristics of classical philosophy	119
§ 1. The conception of classical philosophy.....	119
§ 2. The conception of classical philosophy of religion	121
Chapter II: The problem of justifying the truth of propositions and beliefs concerning objective reasons of religion by way of religious experience	129
§ 1. Attempts at justifying propositions and beliefs concerning God by way of referring to religious experience	131
§ 2. Attitudes questioning the possibility of justifying propositions and beliefs concerning God by way of referring to religious experience	141
§ 3. Theories of the object of religious experience	146
§ 4. Necessary conditions for experiencing God	152
§ 5. The problem of experiencing God in the light of descriptions of religious experiences	155
§ 6. The object of religious experiences.....	165
Chapter III: The problem of justifying the truth of propositions and beliefs concerning objective reasons of religion by way of religious faith.....	169
§ 1. The main types of interpretation of religious faith	170
§ 2. Conditions for the possibility of cognition of God by way of religious faith.....	178
Chapter IV: The problem of justifying the truth of propositions and beliefs concerning objective reasons of religion by way of reasoning.....	183
§ 1. The problem of justifying the truth of propositions and beliefs concerning God on the basis of scientific cognition .	183
§ 2. The problem of justifying the truth of propositions and beliefs concerning God by way of a priori proving	186
§ 3. The problem of justifying, the truth of propositions and beliefs concerning God by way of anthropological-axiological proving.....	189

§ 4. The problem of justifying the truth of propositions and beliefs concerning God by way of inductive proving	195
§ 5. Justifying the truth of propositions and beliefs concerning God by way of metaphysical cognition	196
§ 6. Pre-philosophical cognition of God	203
Chapter V: The problem of justifying the truth of propositions and beliefs concerning subjective reasons of religion.....	209
§ 1. Selected examples of determination of the anthropological foundations of religion.....	209
§ 2. Contingency and potentiality of the human person	211
§ 3. Death and immortality	215
Conclusion	223
Bibliography	227
Index of names	247