

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION.....	9
I. FORMAL AND METHODOLOGICAL ISSUES OF NATIONAL SOCIALISM: “FÜHRER” AS “THE MEASURE OF ALL THINGS”.....	17
1.1. The socialist-national “principle of the Führer” instead of the classical principles of existence, cognition and activity “.....	18
1.2. The Nazi negation of the highest natural law principles.....	28
1.2.1. Not the persona est affirmanda but the principle of the “Germanic race” as the “supreme and ultimate value”.....	29
1.2.2. Not the bonum est faciendum malum vitandum but only “the welfare of the German Reich and the German nation”.....	30
1.2.3. Not the pacta sunt servanda but only “the consciousness of the duty for the” German “commonwealth”.....	33
1.2.4. Not the suum cuique but the “maintenance and strengthening of the race”.....	34
1.2.5. Not the community and private property but only the German common property.....	36
1.2.6. “The principle of the Führer” as the most important legal and moral criterion.....	36
1.3. On categories in the logical aspect.....	38
1.3.1. One “nationalized” and “politicized” substance of the Nordic race, one “collectivist personality”.....	39
1.3.2. The rest of the reality as an affliction of the German socialist-national substance.....	39
1.3.3. Supracategorizability of the Führer’s entitativity.....	40
1.4. Racist methodological monism: “The Führer’s method”.....	42
1.5. Socialist-national means supporting “the Führer’s method”.....	49
Conclusions.....	51
II. “THE MYTH OF THE NATION,” “OF BLOOD,” OR “FÜHRER-PRINZIP”, AS AN ABSOLUTE A PRIORI OF SOCIALIST-NATIONAL MONISM.....	53
II.1. Racist apriorism.....	53
II.1.1. Apriority of the notion of the “Nordic race”.....	55
II.1.2. Apriority of the notion of the “German nation”.....	55

II.1.3. Apriority of the notion of the “Third German Reich”	57
II.1.4. Apriority of the notion of the “Führer”	57
II.1.5. Apriority of the notion of “law”	58
II.2. Racist materialistic monism	59
II.2.1. The German race as causa materialis	59
II.2.2. The Führer and the National Socialist German Workers’ Party (NSDAP) as causa formalis	66
II.2.3. The German racist socialism—collectivistic community of the existence of the Third Reich as causa efficiens	72
II.2.4. The Führer’s existence as the abolutism of the race, the nation and the state of the German Reich: causa exemplaris and finalis . .	75
II.3. Ideological and ontological basis of the Nazi system in the categorial aspect	81
II.3.1. Desubstantialization and depersonalization of the human existence and reducing the latter to being an ailment	81
II.3.2. Substantialization of the existence of the Nordic race and thus also the state of the Third German Reich	89
Conclusions	97
III. GENESIS OF LAW: FÜHRER AS THE ULTIMATE SOURCE OF THE EXISTENCE OF LAW	101
III.1. The Weimar Constitution: “Nation” as the source of power and law . . .	102
III.2. The government of the German Reich and NSDAP	106
III.3. Führer’s “Wille zur Macht”	107
Conclusions	109
IV. THE ESSENCE OF LAW	111
IV.1. Towards an attempt at a definition of socialist-national law	111
IV.2. The right reason and freedom or “fantasy” or “feelings” as the cause of the existence of law?	124
IV.3. Meanders of the human conscience inside and outside the Third German Reich	128
IV.4. Is there adaequatio between dignitas humana and the socialist-national law and state?	136
IV.5. The issue of man’s duty or restraint from activity	146
Conclusions	157
V. FINALITY OF THE EXISTENCE OF LAW: NOT BONUM COMMUNE , BUT GOOD AND EVIL AS THE GOAL OF LAW IN “FÜHRERSTAAT”?	159
V.1. Bonum commune as the classic causa to realize the concept of entity of law	159
V.2. “The German race as the goal in itself”	160
V.3. Not strengthening the good of human personal and community unity but “securing the political unity” of the German nation	164

v.4. The Nazi civil law not in the service of the objective bonum commune but being absolutely subordinated to the internally contradictory “Führer’s principle”	169
v.5. A contradictory vision of the purposefulness of the Nazi penal law science	174
v.6. The Nazi ideologization of the natural law concept of the finality of the law of the nations.....	181
Conclusions	186
VI. THE CONSEQUENCES OF LAW	187
VI.1. “To make citizens good”?	188
VI.2. Duties towards the entity of the German race as the Nazi order of law ..	188
VI.3. Prohibition	189
VI.4. Permission.....	189
VI.5. Punishment.....	190
Conclusions	192
VII. NOT DIFFERENT KINDS BUT THREE ASPECTS OF ONE RACIST GERMAN LAW	193
VII.1. The racist-divinist aspect of the Führer’s law in the place of the classical eternal law	193
VII.2. The racist-socialist aspect of law in the place of the classical science on natural law.....	196
VII.3. The racist-positivistic aspect of the law in the place of the classical established law	203
Conclusions.....	203
VIII. A FEW REMARKS ON UNIVERSITY, SCIENCE AND TEACHING OF LAW IN THE THIRD GERMAN REICH.....	205
VIII.1. Total politicization of university and science	205
VIII.2. The teaching of legal science and the philosophy of law and the process of the Nazi education	209
Conclusions	213
FINAL CONCLUSIONS	215
BIBLIOGRAPHY.....	219
Normative acts.....	219
Literature sources	224
Supplementary literature	236
ABBREVIATIONS	257
INDEX OF NAMES.....	259