

Table of Contents

Stanisław K i c z u k, A Dispute about the Applicability of Formal Logic to Philosophy in the Lublin School	5
Stanisław K i c z u k, Remarks on Some types of Necessity	21
Marek L e c h n i a k, Some Remarks about Attempts of Intuitive Inter- pretation of Jan Lukasiewicz's Three-Valued Logic	49
Paweł G a r b a c z, Philosophical Motivations of Jan Lukasiewicz's Three- Valued Logic	67
Paweł G a r b a c z, An Attempt at the Reconstruction of System Z and Its Philosophical Foundation	89
Bożena C z e r n e c k a, Jan Lukasiewicz's Conception of the Intuitionistic Propositional Calculus	105
Arkadiusz G u t, The Existential Judgement and Cognition of Existence (an Analysis of the Views of F. Brentano and M.A. Kra_piec)	121
Jacek W o j t y s i a k, An Attempt at Reinterpreting the (Neo)Thomistic Conception of Existential Judgement	141
Antoni B. S t e p i e r i, Is Reason in a Position to Defend Itself? The Rea- sons for Cognitive Mistakes	153
Antoni B. S t e p i e r i, An Introduction into the Problems of the Relation Between the Methodology of the Sciences and the Sphere of Values ..	163
Stanisław J u d y c k i, Transcausal Dependence and Dualism	169
Andrzej B r o n k, Stanisław M a j d a r i s k i, The Category of Descrip- tion: The Dynamics of Its Meanings (a Hermeneutical Analysis)	177
Paweł K a w a l e c, Laudan Thesis and Internalism of Jaakko Hintikka's Theory of Induction	215
Piotr K u l i c k i, Remarks on Axiomatic Rejection in Aristotle's Syll- ogistic	231
Anna I. B u c z e k, Zu einer Konzeption der Philosophie der Mathematik	237
Jacek W o j t y s i a k, Life as a Mode of Existence (Ingardenian Concep- tion of Life)	251
Jacek W o j t y s i a k, There Must Be Something (In Reference to the Paper by Peter van Inwagen Why Is There Anything at All?)	259